April Recognition Tip

Nearly 50% of employees experience financial stress, which can often impact their working behavior. Those dealing with finance-related stress are more likely to miss deadlines, show a decrease in performance, and suffer from mental health issues. This month, tie your recognition to a monetary reward and help alleviate some of their stress.

Note: Keep an eye out for days related to your company's profession or industry!

This month, there are holidays highlighting library workers, lawyers, linemen, volunteers, administrative professionals, and hairstylists.
